

COVID-19: IMMUNE RESPONSE TEST

Informed Decisions, Peace of Mind

COVID-19 immune response tests indicate the presence of novel coronavirus antibodies in the blood from a previous exposure, even if you did not have COVID-19 symptoms.

HOW TO GET TESTED

- Schedule onsite testing for employees OR
- Walk in at any Freeman OccuMed location with employer authorization OR
- Schedule with Freeman Screen Team as part of your wellness screenings

Test cost is $60.

UNDERSTANDING THE TEST

COVID-19 immune response tests do not diagnose an active COVID-19 infection. Antibody testing confirms the presence of IgM antibodies (developed early in infection) and IgG antibodies (more likely to show up after recovery) in your blood. More research is needed to determine at what level and for how long an individual has protection from COVID-19 when antibodies are present. Test results are reported to the state health department.

Note: This test can sometimes return a false positive result if you have been previously exposed to other types of coronavirus.

If you have symptoms of an active COVID-19 infection, call the Freeman COVID-19 hotline 417.347.6444 to determine eligibility for testing.

24-hour turnaround time. Emergency FDA-approved.
